"THE BAN HAS BEEN LIFTED"

"The ban on Palestine has this day been lifted." With these words Mr. Max Pine, secretary of the United Hebrew Trades and a non-Zionist, opened his address at a mass meeting of representative Jewish labour people in New York City some months ago. The meeting marked the commencement of a campaign launched by the United Hebrew Trades, an organization composed of Jewish labour unions in New York, to raise $150,000 for the purpose of doing reconstruction work in Palestine through the agency of the Jewish Federation of Labour in Palestine.

Some time last year the United Hebrew Trades received an impassioned appeal from the General Jewish Federation of Labour in Palestine, requesting the former to send a delegation to visit Palestine with a view of assisting the Jewish co-operative labour forces and the Chaluzim in their work. The appeal stirred up a hornet's nest in Jewish labour circles, especially among the old-guard Jewish labour leaders who were traditional opponents to Zionism and Jewish nationalism. This hostility to Jewish nationalism dates back to the days before the Russian Revolution. The Jewish radical intelligenzia in Russia who were thinking and living under the influence of Marxian Socialism and cosmopolitanism threw themselves body and soul into the fires of the Russian revolution in the hope that the problem of the Jews of Russia would be solved when the Russian problem was solved through a Socialistic revolution and "the dictatorship of the proletariat."

In the course of the years many of these Jewish radical leaders in Russia emigrated to America as political refugees. Here they became leaders in the Jewish labour movement and served as "Aufklärer" of the Jewish labour masses. The great Jewish labour movement in the needle industries is a living testimony to their ability and vision. The Jewish "Forwards" which has a daily circulation of over 230,000, making it the greatest foreign language paper in the world, is another product of their creation. The Arbeiter Ring with its thousands of members is yet another result of their efforts. All of these institutions, however, were built up on the old Marxian philosophy of Socialism and cosmopolitanism. Only the "Economic class struggle" mattered. Zionism was trepha—Jewish nationalism, like all nationalistic movements they looked upon as capitalistic means of befogging the minds of the labour masses and of side-tracking them from the real issue. For thirty years this was the spirit of the leadership of the Jewish labour masses. Little wonder then that the living masses of the Jewish labour movement kept aloof from those movements and organizations which concerned themselves with the national aspirations of the Jews, with Jewish survival as Jews, and with the re-establishment of the Jewish national homeland in Palestine. It need hardly be said that this aloofness of the Jewish labour masses was deeply felt to be a great loss to our national cause. After all, the Jewish labour masses form the bulk of our people and without them no movement can truly be representative of the Jewish people.

Many things have happened in the last ten years to bring about a change of attitude. The most important factor, however, was the turn in the philosophy of international socialism from that of cosmopolitanism to that of nationalism. Bebel, before his death, declared himself a German nationalist. Jaures was a French nationalist, Ramsay MacDonald is a British nationalist. These leaders of modern Socialism saw no contradiction between being a nationalist and an internationalist. It is unfortunate that the Jewish labour leaders were such orthodox Socialists as to be the last to realize this change of philosophy. At last, however, they too have seen the light. As a matter of fact, nationalism is the road to internationalism. The two complement and supplement each other. It was the Poale Zionists who preached this new philosophy and organized along these specific lines. They deserve the credit for having been the leaders in this work of converting the Orthodox Jewish labour leaders.

Jewish labour in America was therefore prepared for the call for co-operation and aid which came from Jewish labour in Palestine. It was a challenge to American Jewish labour to be both national and international. We are happy that Jewish labour in America accepted the challenge. For this reason the words above quoted of Max Pine, the veteran Jewish labour leader, are significant. They mark the change of attitude on behalf of Jewish labour in America. In this campaign for $150,000 to assist the co-operative work of Jewish labour in Palestine the Jewish workingmen of Canada ought to raise at least $20,000. In Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg and other cities, opportunitites are now being given to the Jewish labour masses to contribute to this remarkably fine brotherly cause—more noble in its spirit than it can possibly be in financial returns. It is extremely heartening to our Chaluzim in Palestine to know that they are being helped not merely by the Jewish rich, but by their own class, their own kith and kin, Jewish labour.

JEWISH FAMILY LIFE

In these days when Jewish detractors are numerous and anti-Semitism is no longer something that decent people are ashamed of, the following statement is both welcome and significant:

Mr. F. M. Mchew, secretary of the National Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children, of Great Britain, in a recent address at Newcastle-on-Tyne, said that very few cases of child neglect or cruelty among Jews had come to the attention of his Society. In twenty-one years that he has been director of the Society, he has never had to order a prosecution against a Jew or Jewess for child neglect, while it is a matter of record that during last year alone, the Society dealt with 38,000 cases of parental neglect involving 95,627 children. "If everyone treated their children as experience showed the Jewish race did in this country, there would be little need for the society," concluded Mr. Mehew.

What Mr. Mehew has said about the Jews of Great Britain can be said for the Jewish people everywhere. The primary reason, of course, for this condition, is the traditional home and family life of the Jew. It was the joy and love and religious constancy of our home life which sustained the Jew amid the squalor of the Ghetto and preserved him in spite of persecution.

Olive Shriner, that great pioneer of freedom for women, said some thirty years ago, in describing her residence among the Jewish poor in the east end of London: "Though it had all the misery and confinement which extreme poverty means in a great city, I had yet often a curious feeling that in the one-room tenement where many of these Jews lived there was a HOME. . . . Though it meant starving themselves, these parents would lay by something for the education of their children. . . . And the conclusion was forced on me that taking the very poorest class of Jew and comparing him with an exactly analogous class of non-Jew, earning the same wages, and living in the same locality, the life of the Jew was, on the whole, more mentally healthful, more human and had in it an element of hope that was often wanting in that of others. I felt that these people needed but a little space, a little

July 1 and the Immigration Law which it ushered in in the United States wrote finis across that chapter in the book of American history which told of how Jews could go to the Statue of Liberty and live under its shadow in peace. It started a new volume on a new epoch in the history of American Jewry, in which the part to be played by the European Jew will be very small.

Even the most optimistic agree that there is an ominous permanence about the Johnson Immigration Law. The efficacy with which the bill was passed brings credit to the labour forces in its favour, discredit to the American people for their very feeble opposition to it, and should satisfy all those anti-Semitic agitators who like to claim that the Jews wield great influence at the seats of government. Jews either don't wield any influence or, with regard to the Johnson bill, they were too lethargic and blind to wield what they do have. Anyway, there is nothing for it now but to bow the head, deplore the state of Jews in pogromist traps and to conjecture on what the new phase of Jewish history in this country will be like.

Already social workers who were at the social service convention in Toronto are trying to find themselves in a new world in which American Jews are thrown on their own resources for their spiritual growth. These workers will try to build some foundation for spiritual development of the American Jews as a people to take the place of the rich European sources from which American Jewish culture has always received its strength. Many of these rabbis and other social workers, earnest and anxious though they be, are without first-hand Jewish training but must try just the same to breathe the breath of life into the Jewish institutions, and upon how well they succeed depends whether or not there will be an American Jewish culture in future another matter of pure conjecture.

Speaking of Jews trapped among the pogrom hoodlums, how about the news from Roumania of the anti-Jewish riots in the Transylvanian section? The situation must have been a pressing one for news to leak through a censorship unusually rigid because of the state visit in England of the Roumanian king and queen. With regard to the Roumanian atrocities, Dr. Julius Halpern, well-known Socialist, had the beautiful faith to write to the Forward that the Jews of America ought to bring their influence to bear on the League of Nations to make an end to the outrages against Roumanian Jews. How much does he think this influence is worth coming from a country which (although the Jews there are considered the most influential in the world) limits the immigration quota of Jews from Roumania so that few may enter the country of supermen?

Concerning this same race of supermen now living in the United States, it is not amiss to quote from such a citizen as Dr. Hoffman, vice-president and consulting statistician of the Prudential Life Insurance Company, who says that where the native-born Americans are thickest there is found the greatest increase in crimes of violence. For instance, it is down South where the native sons have the country practically to themselves that the Ku Klux Klan was born and contempt of law and order is the usual guiding principle of conduct, and where the Klan flourishes in the North it is the 100 per cent. Americans fighting for their supremacy who burn the fiery crosses after sundown. By comparison and in proportion to the population, Dr. Hoffman cites New York as a city having a low homicide record, first, because it has a big percentage of foreign-born,—and, second, because it has such a large Jewish population!

There is quite a bit of interest in at least three observations made by social workers during the convention here. One was to the effect that Goyim are surprised and rather hurt when they discover that Jews don't know any Hebrew as a rule and rarely if ever mention the Messiah seriously. The other is that no matter where social service conventions are held, the chief auto ride planned for the delegates always takes them to the beautiful residential sections of the city which are monotonously alike everywhere, instead of to the congested poor districts which are usually, as in Toronto, the only colourful and picturesque spots a visitor has to see.

The third observation was made by Jess Perlman of New York, formerly of Montreal, on child discipline. The reason it attracts is that it comes after a couple of decades during which parents visited so many fads on their children that time alone could tell what the hatch was going to be like. What they got, of course, was the male and female flappers, generally regarded as not so much to brag on. Mr. Perlman doubtless had them in mind when he expressed the startling opinion that it was time for a return to the days of bedroom slipper discipline.

Fourth Annual Convention of Young Judea

The fourth annual convention of the Federation of Young Judaea opened on Saturday, June 28, with a meeting at the Mount Royal Hotel. Sessions continued all day Sunday and Monday, concluding on Monday night with a dinner dance at the Mount Royal Hotel, in honour of the visiting delegates.

The first session of the Young Judaea convention opened on Saturday night. The principal speakers, outside of members of the organization, were Rabbi Zlotnick, director of the Jewish National Fund in Canada, who paid an eloquent tribute to the ideal of Zionism, and Lazarus Philips, who represented the Zionist Organization of Canada, and who delivered an address on the relationship of Young Judaea to the Zionist movement.

"To educate out youth to the service they owe to our people," was the major platform of Young Judaea, said Philip Joseph, LL.B., in his presidential address on Saturday night.

Plans were outlined to raise funds to equip a Scoutmasters' training camp in Palestine.

Other resolutions adopted dealt with the raising of funds to erect a school house in a new Palestine colony and to establish a special section, in the library of the Hebrew University in Jerusalem devoted to the particular study of dietetics.

Continued support of the campaign to raise funds for a Hebrew University for the Jewish National Fund and for the Keren Hayesod was voted by the convention at the meeting of their various committees.

In connection with the Hebrew work, a resolution was passed that an attempt be made to further the sphere of Hebrew and supplant its use as the official language of the Young Judaea organization. A suggestion was to create Hebrew clubs in the Talmud Torahs and annex them with their movement.

The president dealt on the educational feature of Young Judaea work and the need of an educational director, which the Zionist organization had undertaken to engage for Young Judaea work in Canada. Mr. Joseph then paid tribute to the work done by the organization to enlarge its membership and in its contributions towards different funds, including nearly $1,000 to the Nordau Garden City. He also suggested the creating of new funds, which were adopted by the committees at the sessions held yesterday.

Other speakers included Samuel Chait, who welcomed the delegates on behalf of Young Judaea, and Moses Levitt who introduced the various speakers: Philip Joseph, Sam Berger, Moe Levitt, Dr. A. O. Freedman, Mrs. B. O. Joseph, Mrs. Kahn M. Mendelovitch, Henry Silverstone, Sam Chait, Ralph Isaacs, Alex Shayne and Rabbi Zlotnick. Perlmutter, Yona Myerson, Moe Brainin, Rose Gesser, Alice Goldstein, Seline Herman, Rivka Levy, Misses Segal and Bloom, of Toronto, Sadie Lazarovitch, Fanny Woloshen, Clara Pall, of Winnipeg, Mr. Cherkover, Bessie Louis

Features of Sunday's sessions were the address of Leon Goldman, Executive Director of the Zionist Organization of Canada, who pledged support of his organization to the Young Judaean cause, and a demonstration of how to organize a model Young Judean club and how to stage a model club meeting. A debate, in which Messrs. Rutner, London, Frank and Garmaise took part with L. Marks and S. Bernstein in the chair, took place at the meeting.

The final sessions were held on Monday at the Zionist Headquarters. Luncheon was served to the out of-town delegates by Hadassah workers at the Institute. Later the delegates were the guests of George Rotsky, of the Palace Theatre, prior to the dinner-dance at Mount Royal Hotel. After the Sunday evening sessions, an auto-bus ride was arranged which was followed by a buffet supper at the Institute.

The Board of Directors of the Talmud Torah have decided to take over the Elmwood Talmud Torah "Hertzelia" as a branch of the Winnipeg Hebrew Free School. At a meeting of the board of directors held recently, it was decided to call a mass meeting for the purpose of organizing an enrollment campaign. The Talmud Torahs of Winnipeg have place for many more children and the tuition fees from the increased number of pupils would help to reduce the year's deficit of $5,000.00. A meeting for this purpose will be called for the 6 of July. All organizations will send delegates. Dr. Zilbz and Dr. Fried were elected chairmen of the refreshment committee of the carnival. A meeting was held at the home of Mrs. M. Weisman, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Talmud Torah and was addressed by S. A. Berg president of the Talmud Torah and Dr. Chas. Bernak. The ladies organized to help on the carnival. The newly-formed Girls' Auxiliary will also help. A garden party was held on the lawn of Mrs. A. Berg, Hazlet Street, on Sunday, June 22 under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary in aid of the Talmud Torah. ### JEWISH NATIONAL FUND WORK IN MONTREAL

Mrs. R. Kates, Chairman of the Montreal Hadassah J.N.F., submitted a report at headquarters on the activities of Montreal Hadassah Chapters, covering a period from June 1, 1923, to May 31, 1924, which showed the total amount contributed and collected by Montreal Chapters, $6,430.11, against $2,861.83 last year, an increase of 125 per cent. The number of boxes distributed and recorded in Montreal Jewish homes is 2,614 as against 1,202 boxes in the previous year, an increase of 120 per cent. The Queen Esther Chapter has 1,003 boxes; the Miriam Brainin Ortenberg, 636; Central, 463; Westmount, 166; Sybil Cohen, 91; Young Ladies' Zionist, 56; Rachel, 74; North End, 32; Lachine, 28; Eta Cohen, 93. Total, 2,614.

The total amount collected for the J.N.F. by the Queen Esther Chapter is $1,938.88 as against $1,023.00 in the previous period. The Miriam Brainin Ortenberg, $1,278.61, as against $669.00; the Central Chapter, $674.26, as against $470.00; the Westmount Chapter, $393.53, as against $120.00; the Sybil Cohen Chapter, $233.06, as against $135.00, the North End Chapter, $217.97, as against $106.00; the Rachel Chapter, $99.56; the Eta Cohen Chapter, $116.50; the Young Ladies' Zionist Hadassah, $35.83; Montreal General Hadassah, $741.41; Montreal Junior Council, $348.50; Hatikvah Chapter, $138.00; Deborah, $51.00; Junior Chapter of Shaar Hashomayim, $33.00; Lillian Freiman Chapter, $32.50; Menorah Chapter, $31.50; Mizpah, $22.50; Rose of Sharon, $31.50; Ziona, $12.00. The total collected for the Golden Book by Montreal Hadassah Chapters is $944.60; Land Fund, $730.83; Herzl Forest, $1,526.98; boxes, $3,782.10; stamps, $21.50; Nordau Garden City, $60.00; Rothschild and Samuels Golden Book Inscription, $375.00.

Mrs. Kates stated that the progress is due to the services of the following chairmen: Mrs. J. Schulman and Mrs. S. Kahn (Queen Esther); Mrs. S. Jaffe and Mrs. Kanigsberg (Miriam Brainin); Mrs. Geffin (Central); Mrs. H. H. Livingston (Westmount); Mrs. B. Bernard and Mrs. Poyarer (North End); Mrs. J. L. Franklin and Mrs. S. Guttman (Young Ladies' Zionist); Mrs. Rosenfeld (Rachel); Miss Bindman (Sybil Cohen); Mrs. Titleman and Miss Plonsky (Eta Cohen).

The first piece of work undertaken by Hadassah this year was the subscribing of a number of trees in remembrance of Herzl, on the Herzl Memorial Day. Yom Kippur Hadassah took part in a plate collection which netted $110.00.

Hadassah Chapters supported the different National Fund branches, by honouring friends and members for services rendered, and such occasions as births, bar-mitzvahs, engagements, marriages, etc., by inscribing their names in the Golden Book, by buying dunams of land in their honour or trees, or land in the Nordau Garden City, etc.

The placing of Jewish National Fund Boxes was carried on by the different Senior Chapters, and the collections made through the Junior Chapters. The Senior Chapters offered prizes to the Junior Chapters, as well as Herzl Forest tree inscriptions, and the Queen Esther and Central Chapters were "at home" at a dance held recently in honour of the Juniors.

Senior Chapter members donated prizes to stimulate the work.

The Rachel Chapter work, due to Mrs. Rosenfeld, a new Hadassah member, chairman of the J.N.F. in her own Chapter. Nearly all of the seventy-four boxes of the Rachel Chapter were placed personally by Mrs. Rosenfeld. The Eta Cohen Chapter which is only twelve weeks old, had to its credit ninety three boxes and is the first Chapter to contribute the sum of $100 to the Rothschild and Samuel Golden Book Inscription.

Thanks are also due Mrs. S. Kaun for direction.

Dr. S. Shapiro is now on a tour in the Maritime Provinces on behalf of the Keren Hayesod and general Zionist propaganda.

NUMERUS CLAUSUS WILL NOT BE REPEALED IN HUNGARY UNTIL LOST PROVINCES ARE RESTORED, MINISTER OF EDUCATION DECLARES

Budapest (J.T.A.)—The Numerus Clausus limiting the number of Jewish students in the Hungarian universites and high schools will not be repealed until the lost provinces are restored to Hungary, the Hungarian Minister of Education, Count Klebelsberg, declared to-day in parliament, in reply to the question of Deputy Lendvai. In connection with the anti-Jewish disturbances at the University of Fuenfkirchen, the deputy had asked whether the Numerus Clausus was still in force.

The Numerus Clausus in Hungary applies only to the universities and high schools and not to the elementary schools. In the latter schools there is no official restriction on the number of Jews admitted, but there is in practice a special examination for Jewish pupils which serves to disqualify a majority of them.

Deputy Musko, a Christian Liberal, introduced a motion to abolish these discriminatory examinations, which, it is believed, will be passed.

DROWNING OF BOY CAUSES RITUAL MURDER CHARGE

Berlin (J.T.A.)—The drowning of the young son of the Jugo-Slavian Consul-General in Berlin, Burkhausen, when he was left unguarded for a little while, a few days ago, has provided the anti-Semitic "Deutsches Tageblatt" with an opportunity to charge "ritual murder." The paper urges the authorities to investigate the boy's death. The democratic press is very indignant at the silly accusation.

PALESTINE EMERGING SLOWLY BUT SURELY FROM ECONOMIC DEPRESSION, REPORT OF ADMINISTRATION STATES

Jerusalem (J.T.A.). The economic situation of Palestine has begun to improve and the downward tendency in the trade and industry of the country has finally been checked. This is the conclusion reached in the report of the Palestinian Government for the year 1922-23, which was issued to-day.

Twenty corporations were registered in Palestine during the year, with a total capital of 1,215,000 Egyptian pounds. The most important of these corporations, the report states, are the Palestine Electric Company and the Jaffa Electric Company. Seven co-operative societies have been formed during the period. Up till now the co-operative movement has been confined entirely to the Jewish population, as the Arab population is not yet appreciative of this form of trade.

The economic depression in 1922, which was caused by the decrease in the influx of foreign capital and the immobilization of local capital in buildings and land, continued throughout 1923. This brought about a limitation of the credits and an increase in the rate of interest. However, all this did not result in any compulsory windings-up of business enterprises. The number of voluntary bankruptcies was only six.

The orange trade, which has suffered losses during recent years, is still suffering owing to the disunion prevailing among the exporters. Thousands of pounds have been lost annually because of the lack of co-operation and the indiscriminate way of placing shipments. On the other hand, the tobacco cultivation and cigarette manufacturing enterprises are flourishing.

The economic depression resulted in fewer large real estate transactions in a decrease of land values and in the multiplication of mortgages, thus compelling the banks and loan societies to lower their rate of interest.

The Government Department of Public Works spent, during the year 1923, 293,000 Egyptian pounds as compared with 362,000 Egyptian pounds spent during the year 1922. The railways have also retrenched their expenses to the lowest point yet recorded; but the prevailing economic stagnation is still decreasing receipts.

The fact that the government has curtailed its programme of road-making and that house-building activities have stopped has contributed to the general economic depression and has created an unemployment situation more extensive than before. This has resulted in a considerable emigration from the country, mainly to America, especially among the more recent arrivals.

The number of unemployed among non-Jews is usually insignificant during the summer, but increases during the winter.

Concerning the immigration to and emigration from Palestine, the report of the government furnishes the following figures. In the year 1923, 4,937 left the country. Of these, 3,466 were Jews, the majority belonging to the working class. The total immigrants in the same year were 7,991, of which 7,421 were Jews. Of the 8,128 immigrants in 1922, 7,844 were Jews.

Concerning the imports and exports of Palestine, the report states that the total amount of imports in the fiscal year was 4,935,265 Egyptian pounds; the total amount of exports being 1,554,730 Egyptian pounds.

The imports from America amounted to 463,207 pounds; the imports from England amounted to 1,123,541 pounds. The export to America amounted to 340,000 pounds; the exports to England amounted to 291,706 pounds.

Concerning the administrative expense of Palestine, the report states that from the first of July, 1920, when the civil government was established, until March 31, 1923, the total revenue was 5,185,356 Egyptian pounds, while the expenditures amount only to 4,946,378 pounds.

The receipts of the import taxes during the period decreased because of the fact that fewer ships entered Palestinian ports.

EDITORIAL

chance, to develop into some far higher form. The material was there."

Many other unprejudiced observers of Jewish family life have corroborated this bit of evidence to which Olive Shriner testifies.

The above statements ought to be of particular meaning to those who, in the United States and Canada, have just shut the doors in the face of the Jewish wanderer who seeks only to be given a chance in America.

To Jewish parents and more especially to Jewish mothers who are in reality the home-makers and the moulders of their children's life and character, we say: Beware lest through your neglect or indifference the uniqueness of the Jewish home and family life disintegrate or deteriorate. Many are the influences and forces which beset us and which are attacking the very pillars on which the Jewish home rests. We need especially to beware of the influences of materialism, indifference and irreligiosity, with which we are surrounded on all sides, and which are already manifesting themselves in Jewish life. We must remember that the Jewish home is at the basis of Jewish survival. Whenever and wherever it breaks down, the Jew and Judaism cease to have a future.

The Jews of America can make no greater and finer contribution to America than to preserve those traditional values on which the Jewish home in the past has been built.

RABBI BERGER, OF MONTREAL, ADDRESSES TORONTO HABONIM

On Sunday last at the University Avenue Synagogue Rabbi Julius Berger, of Montreal, spoke to the Toronto Lodge of Habonim on "Brotherhood" as interpreted by the Zionist Order of Habonim. Plans are on foot in the Grand Lodge to purchase a large tract of land in Palestine upon which the Order will erect houses for incoming Zionists who intend making their homes there. "Hadassah's purpose," he said, "is to nurse the sick, while the Habonim's purpose is to house the homeless." The rabbi then contrasted the Habonim ideal of brotherhood with other ideals of brotherhood, saying that whereas others are based on the theory that man is a fighting animal and that unity has its origin in the fighting or herding instinct, the Habonim ideal of brotherhood is based on faith, hope and charity.

DISQUIETING REPORTS ABOUT CONFLICT BETWEEN ARABS AND JEWS AT TOMB OF SIMEON THE JUST

Arabs Preparing for New Riots, Report Claims

London, June 12 (J.T.A.).—Disquieting reports about serious fighting between Arabs and Jews in Palestine are published here to-day in a despatch from Jerusalem to the anti-Zionist "Daily Express."

The report states that at the Tomb of Simeon the Just, the last member of the Great Assembly, which is held in great reverence by the population of Palestine, a fight broke out between Arabs and Jews, in which several Jews were wounded.

"It was necessary for a strong force of police to intervene in order to prevent further bloodshed," the report states. "In Zionist quarters, persistent rumours are current that the Arabs are preparing to organize riots against the Jewish population of Palestine in the next few months. The Zionists are organizing a self-defense body," concludes the report.
